

Your STORIES Wanted!

Did a child ever show you angry or scary feelings in their art? Did you witness stress and conflict expressed through a drawing or painting?

ANNA REYNER, MA

If so, and you'd like to SHARE your stories with ece teachers nationwide, let's connect! I'm writing a book on Art in the Trauma Informed Classroom, for Fall 2022 release. It will include dozens of personal stories from classrooms nationwide...about children who expressed BIG feelings in their artwork, and were seen and heard by their teachers (that's you!). All names will be changed for anonymity, of course. As thanks, I'll send you a free book if you send me your address. Email me your story and I'll respond promptly. Thank you!
